Looks great! Love that you have actual quotes on there!

N/A; the results from this project were very interesting and the poster was well-designed!

It seems like a lot of words but overall looks really nice!

I would imagine this poster highlights the most important information, but with the selection of only certain questions to highlight in the graphs, I get the impression of biased choice of response. I am curious to know what the patients or aides said on the other questions and if there was any "negative" answers. Maybe this information was not statistically significant, and if so, there would be no reason to include it on the poster
